

Cleveland and Recent Fishing Experience.

The Richmond Dispatch says:

The Hon. Grover Cleveland, ex-President and piscatorial enthusiast, recently received some rather rough treatment at the hands of a Connecticut farmer, who had forbidden trespassing, hunting, and fishing upon his lands. The sage of Buzzard's Bay is himself a zealous guardian of game rights, so he has no reason to complain of the incident in question. It appears that Mr. Cleveland was the guest of a Connecticut gentleman who lives in a neighborhood where there is fine fishing, and that the ex-President, when he got into trouble, supposed he was on the lands of his host, though such was not the case. Frank Johnson, the farmer who saw his territory invaded, had frequently been irritated by poachers, and when he spied Mr. Cleveland he "stalked" him, creeping along a hedge until he came to the spot where the large, lone fisherman had just landed a big trout.

Johnson did not recognize the big game that represented his quarry, and when he approached the ex-President, he cried out: "Ha, I've caught you at last, have I?"

"But, my dear sir," Mr. Cleveland began.

"Don't you 'dear sir' me," shouted Johnson, who was hopping mad. "You just get off my property, and don't you lose any time about it, either, or I'll have you arrested."

Mr. Cleveland hurriedly gave an exhibition of fence climbing, but, unfortunately, he paused for a moment on the top rail, and it collapsed under his weight. This made his pursuer still more angry, and he roared out: "You get away from here. First you steal my trout and then you destroy my fences." By this time Mr. Cleveland had vanished.

When neighbors told Mr. Johnson that he had been pursuing a former President he wasn't a bit sorry, and said: "Grover Cleveland, eh? That's the man who wouldn't appoint me village postmaster when the whole place endorsed me. It beats all, how vindictive some men are, and I never did a thing to him."

Mr. P. Ketcham, of Pike City, Cal., says: "During my brother's late sickness from sciatic rheumatism, Chamberlain's Pain Balm was the only remedy that gave him any relief." Many others have testified to the prompt relief from pain which this liniment affords. For sale by M. M. Lewis, Druggist.

The New Woman.

The Washington, D. C., Times says: The case of the lady bandit of Arizona who has been captured, after holding up a stage, with only one, and an inconsequential, male assistant, is clear evidence that the "new woman" has struck the wild and woolly West, and has been able at once to adjust herself to its peculiar civilization. And she herself explains her excusable little indiscretion, she was "broke," wished to "skip the territory," and merely took to the road to get a "stake" for that commendable purpose. The principal point of regret in the unfortunate affair is that the passengers who held up their hands at the command of this feminine Claude Duval only yielded the despicable sum of four dollars. They, too, must have been practically "broke," and the circumstance amounts to a sombre commentary upon the prevalence of McKinley prosperity in Arizona. If for no other reason, to avoid further publicity in that connection the case against the lady road agent should be promptly nipped by the district attorney.

TOLBERT RETURNS HOME.

South Carolina Republican Leader Says He Is Opposed to Negro Domination.

P. R. Tolbert, who contests the seat of Congressman J. R. Latimer, has been allowed to return to his home, at Phoenix, Greenwood county, South Carolina, from which he was expelled last November at the time of election riots. Tolbert came quietly and is with his family.

The other Tolberts sent away by popular will at the same time are still under banishment and cannot return.

R. R. Tolbert recently got the editor of his home paper to meet him in Greenville, and to him the Republican leader made a statement for publication that changed the sentiment of the people and led to his being quietly notified that he might return and look after his affairs.

Tolbert said that he had opposed negro domination, negro office-holding and ignorant negroes voting, and that he would be the first to fight for white supremacy. He had nothing to do, he said, with inciting the negroes and had never attended or encouraged their night meetings. He said if he had thought his candidacy for Congress would have resulted in riot or bloodshed, he would have refused the nomination. He had been a Republican, he said, because he thought that party's policy to be the best, but if he was shown to be wrong, he would change.

All he wished to do, Tolbert said in conclusion, was to live in peace in a community where his friends were and all his property interests lay, and where he thought he had lived a life that commanded respect of those who knew him.

I was seriously afflicted with a cough for several years, and last fall had a more severe cough than ever before. I used many remedies without receiving much relief, and being recommended to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, by a friend, who, knowing me to be a poor widow, gave it to me, I tried it, and with the most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved me very much and the second bottle has absolutely cured me. I have not had so good health for twenty years. Respectfully, Mrs. Mary A. Beard, Claremore, Ark. Sold by M. M. CANCER IS DEADLY!

Results Fatally in Nine Cases Out of Ten—A Cure Found at Last.

This fearful disease often first appears as a mere scratch, a pimple, or lump in the breast, too small to attract any notice, until, in many cases, the deadly disease is fully developed.

Cancer can not be cured by a surgical operation, because the disease is a virulent poison in the blood, circulating throughout the system, and although the sore or ulcer—known as the Cancer—may be cut away, the poison remains in the blood, and promptly breaks out afresh, with renewed violence.

The wonderful success of S. S. S. in curing obstinate, deep-seated blood diseases which were considered incurable, induced a few despairing sufferers to try it for Cancer, after exhausting the skill of the physicians without a cure. Much to their delight S. S. S. proved equal to the disease and promptly effected a cure. The glad news spread rapidly, and it was soon demonstrated beyond doubt that a cure had at last been found for deadly Cancer. Evidence has accumulated which is incontrovertible, of which the following is a specimen:

"Cancer is hereditary in our family, my father, a doctor and an aunt having died from this dreadful disease. My feelings may be imagined when the horrible disease made its appearance on my side. It was a malignant Cancer, eating inwardly in such a way as to cause great alarm. The disease seemed beyond the skill of the doctors, for their treatment did no good whatever, the Cancer growing worse all the while. Numerous remedies were used for it, but the Cancer grew steadily worse, until it seemed that I was doomed when inherited. I was advised to try Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), which, from the first day, forced out the poison. I continued its use until I had taken sixteen bottles, when I was cured sound and well, and have had no symptoms of the dreadful affliction, though many years have elapsed. S. S. S. is the only cure for Cancer.—Mrs. S. M. Ingle, Winston, N. C.
